Coincident with these activities Senator Meyer, acting with the authorization of the committee, requested Police Commissioner Enright to assign Capt. Daniel P. Costigan, known as "Honest Dan," to the State investigation for an indefinite period.

indefinite period.

Commissioner Enright is away on a vacation, but Acting Commissioner Leach telephoned the committee soon after the letter was received at Police Headquarters protesting against the request and asking if the services of a police lieutenant would not be sufficient. Senator Meyer answered "No," and repeated the urgent request that Costigan be assigned. Mr. Leach said the request would be referred to Commissioner Enright when he returns Monday.

Costigan's Ald Needed.

"I need not point out that this is a matter of great urgency and that the committee, while refuctant to interfere with the routine of your department. feels that Capt. Costigan's assistance in its efforts will be to the best interest of the city," Senator Meyer wrote. The Senator explained that under the terms of the resolution authorizing the investigation the Legislature's committee was empowered to ask the city employees and officials for cooperation.

Davis Outlines Secretary Trouble Encountered in Trying to Reach Agreement.

New York Herald Bureau, | Washington, D. C., June 3.

Difficulties in bringing a settlement of the marine strike that would close the matter on a satisfactory basis were discussed at the Cabinet meeting to-day. Secretary of Labor Davis went over the long series of negotiations and outlined the trouble encountered in getting an agreement that would insure freedom of employment and settle the situation for at least a year.

It was announced at the White House following the meeting that an early agreement was anticipated. It was indicated that settlement would come tomorrow or early next week. It is evident that the Administration through Newhall's confession came at the end of long questioning. Earlier in the evening eye witnesses of the murder had come into the detective bureau and partially identified him and as he saw the chain of evidence being forged about him he suddenly broke down and said simply, "Well, I guess I might as well tell the truth."

He then told how he had met the girl earlier in the evening at 9 o'dlock. He said they had quarrelled and that she had gone to the dance hall.

He said he hung around and saw her come out of the place with Sullivan, whom he had never seen before. He said he heard their laughing voices and then saw Sullivan's arm around the waist of the girl he loved. Then he shot and killed the girl.
